MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the Child Abuse Prevention Council is to prevent and respond to all forms of child abuse and neglect through community partnerships, education, collaboration, and advocacy.

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

The Child Abuse Prevention Council (CAPC) (known as the Child Abuse Council until October 2017), originally started as a multidisciplinary task force formed to review the 1979 Santa Clara County Grand Jury Report concerning the child abuse service delivery system.

In 1982, AB 1733, making state funds available for child abuse treatment and prevention, mandated that a citizens' group promote awareness of child abuse, promote interagency cooperation, and advise the Board of Supervisors. The creation of an allocations committee to recommend the distribution of these funds was also specifically required.

Subsequent legislation, AB 2994, setting up the Children's Trust Fund through fees received from certified birth certificates, also required the Board of Supervisors to designate a "local voluntary commission, board, or council" to recommend the allocation of these funds to private agencies through an RFP process.

AB 1980 (authored by Maxine Waters in 1985) specifically required that each county establish a "child abuse prevention coordinating council whose primary purpose is to coordinate the community's efforts to prevent and respond to child abuse."

Santa Clara County's Board of Supervisors, through several actions in the 1980's, combined the requirements of the three (3) above bills into functions given to its Child Abuse Council, including that of recommending the allocations of both AB 1733 and AB 2994 funds.

The Child Abuse Prevention Council was reorganized into its present configuration in January 1993 with the status of a county advisory commission. The membership created by-laws, a set of policies and procedures, and a mission statement, and continued their monthly meetings. The twenty-three (23) authorized seats for voting members are filled through the Child Abuse Prevention Council's own membership selection process that ensures both demographic and professional diversity, with the appointments being recommended to and made by the Board of Supervisors. A Community Advisor membership category, unlimited in number, enables other interested citizens to join the Child Abuse Prevention Council.

Social Services Agency staff supports the work of the Allocations Committee and administers the resulting contracts for services. Children's Trust Fund monies (per W & I Code) pay for the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors' services for the monthly meetings and enable the committees of the Child Abuse Prevention Council to contract for professional services for specific activities.

FISCAL YEAR 2020 WORK PLAN

PREFACE

The functions of county Child Abuse Prevention Councils are guided by California Welfare and Institutions Code (WIC) Chapter 12.5, Section 18980 which dictates the goals and ongoing projects of the Child Abuse Prevention Council of Santa Clara County:

- To provide a forum for interagency cooperation and coordination in the prevention, detection, treatment, and legal processing of child abuse cases.
- To promote public awareness of the abuse and neglect of children and the resources available for intervention and treatment.
- To encourage and facilitate training of professionals in the detection, treatment, and prevention of child abuse and neglect.
- To recommend improvements in services to families and victims.
- To encourage and facilitate community support for child abuse and neglect programs.

The work of the Council in pursuit of these goals is done by the Child Abuse Prevention Council standing committees which include: Allocations, Disproportionality, Executive, Interagency Collaboration, Membership, Nominations, Public Awareness, and Symposium. Additionally, the Council had three active task forces during FY 2018/19: Child Sexual Abuse Prevention, School-Based Approach, and East Valley Campus.
